ABR: Accredited Buyer Representative two day designation and continuing education course

THIS COURSE COMPLETELY SATISFIES CONTINUING EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 2013 DEADLINE

Provided by REBAC

Today, most real estate agents and companies are offering to represent the buyer in the real estate transaction. From the initial selection of properties, all the way through contract negotiations and settlement, you can be an agent specifically committed to representing the buyer's best interest when buying a home.

Consumer advocacy groups have endorsed such representation, and licensing laws in virtually every state encourage representation for the buyer. License laws are written to protect the consumer and court cases hold real estate agents to high levels of performance for their buyers. Learn the proper practice of disclosed dual agency.

The Accredited Buyer's Representative (ABR®) designation is the benchmark of excellence in buyer representation. This coveted designation is awarded by the Real Estate Buyer's Agent Council (REBAC), an affiliate of the National Association of REALTORS®, to real estate practitioners who meet the specified educational and practical experience criteria. In addition, REBAC provides many membership benefits to help your business grow and keep you up-to-date and networked, with new enhancements added each year.
